LOVE LIFTED ME:

THE STORY OF FOUR WOMEN WHO WERE CHANGED BY GOD

- DETERMINE a weekly meeting day and time.
- REGISTER your gathering to access ongoing leadership resources to put into action the suggestions in this guide, as you lead a group of women in our Fall Study and beyond!
- PRAY for the LORD to direct your gathering, including the women who will attend, how you will work through the Study, and for sustainable life transformation for each one.
- INVITE women in your sphere of influence to join you each week and have them PURCHASE their copies of "Love Lifted Me: The Story of Four Women Who Were Changed by God".

- EXPLICITLY glorify Jesus Christ. While your gathering may include a mixture of pre-Christians and Christians, you should be mindful that all gatherings should be prayerfully developed in order to invite women to fellowship with Jesus, who is the true answer to all their longings.

- OPEN and close in prayer. Invite participants to share their prayer requests and cover them in the opening and or closing prayers. Additionally, fold praying into your general interactions with the women. For example, if they share a particular struggle, offer to pray for them right then and there.

- DEVELOP community norms. Norms are expectations for behavior, which all community members agree to so that each member has a lived experience of being seen, valued, engaged, loved and may fully access the benefits advertised, i.e. being equipped to seek, live and be transformed-spirit, soul, and body-by the truth of God's Word.

- ENCOURAGE a spirit of gratitude. While you will want to create an environment in which the women can share freely, you will want to steward the atmosphere so it does not become a pit of discontentment, discouragement, and despair. Point them to the goodness of the God they may struggle to see.
